World Bank's Specialist on Energy and Finance Mr. Varadarajan Atur addresses students at St. Philomena's College

March 6th2018

St. Philomena's College economic forum organized a guest lecture on the 'Functions and Policies' of the world Bank on 6th March 2018. Mr. Varadarajan Atur, Specialist on Energy sector and Finance, An advisor to the World Bank addressed the Students of St. Philomena's College on the functions of the World Bank. Addressing the students he spoke about the complex structure of the World Bank's funding, how they encourage development planning and support the countries in development policies. He also spoke about how difficult it is to obtain loans or support from the World Bank due to its high standard rules to obtain funds.

Answering the questions by student's questions, He spoke about the relationship of other international financial institutions with the World Bank, the standard of statistics and influence of developed countries in the functions of the World Bank.

Prof. Sujatha Devi B, Head of the department, Economics, Ms. Soumyashree, Assistant Professor Department of Economics, Prof. Rajlashmi, Department of Physics, Prof. Shobana Thomas, Department of Physics, Prof. Juhi Singh, Prof. Supritha, Prof. Monica and Prof Helen Razario from Department of Commerce were present.